

A. J. Higgins Gives Data On Ship Cost

New Orleans Builder Says U. S. Stands to Lose 75 Millions by Cancellation

Increase Refused War Labor Board Has Refused Bid Made by Workers

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Andrew Jackson Higgins contended today cancellation of his contract for building 200 liberty ships would cost the nation an ultimate $75,000,000 while Admiral Emory S. Land countered with the assertion Higgins program involved a higher cost per ship than any for which the Maritime Commission has contracted.

Their testimony, before the Senate defense investigating committee, reviewed the conflicting claims which followed cancellation of the contract July 18 by Chairman Land and his associates.

Higgins, president of the Higgins Corporation which was forced to abandon construction of its plant at New Orleans, contended that through building at a rate of 274,000 man hours per ship, the savings in labor alone would run $300,000 a ship, or $60,000,000 on the 200.

In addition, he said the government would suffer a loss of from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 in abandoning the plant and its materials.

Land remarked on the stand Higgins took that the commission had figured there was a "50-50" chance Higgins could build ships as speedily as he planned, but declared that the construction would have involved a cost of $65,000,000 to be born by the commission, representing the "highest cost per ship to be constructed under any of our contracts."

Higgins protested that "a dog shouldn't have been treated" as he said he had been.

Meanwhile the War Labor Board refused to grant a general wage increase to 1,200 Remington Rand Company employees in New York's Tonawanda and North Tonawanda plants because, it decided, two recent pay raises they received more than compensated for higher living costs since January 1, 1941.

Applying its wage stabilization formula yesterday for the first time since it was set forth in the Little Steel case, the board rejected 4-2, the C. I. O. United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers' demands for a 10-cents an hour raise but approved a 2½ cent increase for women employees hired on an incentive basis.

The added amount brought the women employees' hourly pay to 50 cents reducing inequalities, the board said, between their wages and those of the men. Citing the formula based on a general rule that workers need 15 per cent more money than they were receiving January 1, 1941, to offset higher living costs, the board declared that their pay raises totaling 18 cents an hour for men and 11 cents for women more than met the scale.

Dean Wayne L. Morse, public member of the board, suggested that the decision demonstrated the "workability" of the stabilization formula which in the Little Steel case gave more than 150,000 workers a 44-cents-a-day raise instead of the dollar their union asked.

Almond Clough, field organizer in charge of the union's Buffalo, N. Y., office said the W. L. B. decision "virtually means wage freezing," and added he did not think it a "fair one." He disputed the board's formula of a 15 per cent increase to compensate for higher living costs, saying union surveys show costs in the Buffalo area have gone up 25 per cent.

Pravda Says Germany Might Take Over Sweden

Moscow, July 28 (AP)—The newspaper Pravda said today that Germany, "needing more victories," was casting a speculative eye on neutral countries, among them Sweden.

Pravda charged that the German air force is "openly mocking neutrality by flying over Swedish territory as if it were its home land."

The paper added that on July 26 mysterious plane dropped bombs on the Swedish island of Eland, near the resort of Borholm. It said the bombs bore faked Russian markings.

Raid on Tokyo Gave Internees Big Thrill

About the Authors

Vaughn Meisling and Joseph Dynan, Associated Press correspondents who tell of their experiences under Japanese internment, were at Hongkong and Tokyo, respectively, when Japan went to war with the United States. They are en route home with other internees exchanged for Japanese nationals taken to Laurence Marques on the liner Gripsholm.

Meisling, 29, was born in Copenhagen, Denmark, and became a naturalized United States citizen in 1928 at Philadelphia where he worked on the Evening Bulletin. He previously was employed by the Los Angeles Examiner, the Richmond (Va.) News-Leader, the New Orleans Times-Picayune and the San Francisco Chronicle.

Dynan, 31, was born in Chicago, and grew up in Kansas City and was educated there. He was graduated at Rockhurst College and worked on the Kansas City Star, San Antonio Express, the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City, the Honolulu Star-Bulletin and the Tokyo Star-Bulletin and the Associated Press staff there in the summer of 1941.

Their stories complete a picture of life for internees in Japan in three major centers held by the Japanese.

Internees Treated Like Coolies, Says American Writer

American, British Given Lowest Slums to Live in at Hongkong by Jap Captors

By VAUGHN MEISLING
Laurence Marques, Portuguese East Africa, July 25 (Delayed) (AP)—Hongkong, once the "Opulent Pearl of the Orient" has been reduced to a ghost town in the months since the Pacific explosion of last December.

Some 1,000,000 Chinese have been starved to such a point that the whole town has a wraithlike appearance.

The Four Horsemen have ridden roughshod over the once-smiling Riviera of the Far East, and now famine, pestilence and destruction of physical and moral values stalk the former British crown colony.

The Japanese conquerors, realizing the increasing gravity of the internal situation, are doing their utmost to evacuate poorer Chinese residents to country districts of Kwangtung, Kwangsi and Fukien Province, but are unable to remove sufficiently large numbers in time to save the death.

It is estimated that thus far 500,000 have left of their own volition or by compulsion, but 1,000,000 who remain face an increasingly bitter struggle for life.

Isolation of Hongkong island through rupture of all former trade routes, including those supplying fruits and vegetables from the mainland, has caused famine-like conditions. Rice costs eight times the former price, and many other commodities are ten or 20 times as costly as they were.

Owing to the virtual cessation of business, Chinese are flocking to the public rice queues in mounting numbers, although the cheap stocks distributed are utterly inadequate.

Laden like coolies with their personal belongings, British and American men, women and children were marched through Hongkong's most crowded streets by jubilant Japanese as they looked on when internment of allied nationals began on January 5.

It was the Japanese way of rubbing in the humiliation of the race which had ruled Hongkong for a century.

Some 3,000 Americans, Britons and other allied civilians were interned.

I was among 180 imprisoned in a squalid waterfront brothel in the poorest of the Chinese slums. This drive, which the Japanese (Continued on Page Seven)

Americans Saw Planes, Heard Bombs and Later Accounts of Jap Casualties

By JOSEPH DYNAN

Laurence Marques, Portuguese East Africa, July 24 (Delayed) (AP)—General Doolittle's raid on Japan provided the thrill of a lifetime for a group of Americans at an internment camp mid-way between Tokyo and Yokohama.

One of the U. S. planes flew directly over our camp and the music of its motors was sweeter than Beethoven's Fifth Symphony which our phonograph was playing at the time.

It was shortly after noon on April 18 that the big thrill came. We were having coffee and toast when the police rushed into our camp excitedly and told us to extinguish the fires in the stoves and close the windows because there was an air raid.

We thought it was only a drill—even when we heard two tremendous explosions in the direction of the Kawasaki industrial area.

A few seconds later, however, we saw a large twin-motored plane flying very low. Bursts of anti-aircraft shells were streaking after it. The raider dropped down 200 feet to skim rooftops and escaped.

It flew overhead as a squadron of slow Japanese biplanes arose from a nearby training field and circled around looking for the Americans. But by that time this particular raider was far away over the Sagami valley speeding toward Fuji where it disappeared in the mists.

We even spotted two raiders far distant in the direction of Yokohama's docks, and that evening the radio told us of raids on Kobe, Osaka, and Nagoya.

Our guards were very excited, and later we heard that plane factories in Nagoya were badly damaged. Kawasaki likewise was hard hit, and 350 workers were reported killed there.

Three days later I noted a small item in the Japanese press telling of a mass burial of Japanese marines at Yokosuka.

Army Investigates Parachute Angles

Third Service Command Is Given Reports

Baltimore, July 28 (AP)—Reports that "parachutists or other objects were dropped from unidentified planes" in three areas near Washington were being investigated today by military authorities, the Third Service Command announced.

Third Service Command officials said the reports came from Douth, Md., near the Potomac river about 25 miles north of Washington; from Shenandoah Junction, W. Va., six miles west of Harpers Ferry, W. Va., and from Bartgis Store, a crossroads about 10 miles from Annapolis on the defense highway to Washington.

An unidentified plane in the Shenandoah Junction and Douth areas was reported last night to the army filter center about 10:30 p. m. Third Service Command officials said.

One report of a parachutist came from a woman, and another report from a conductor of a Baltimore and Ohio train, headquarters added.

Plans for Esopus Parade and Rally Are Now Complete

Line of March to Form Near Sleightsburgh at 7 P.M. Wednesday; Divisions Listed

Plans have been completed to make the big patriotic parade and rally for the town of Esopus to be held in Port Ewen tomorrow evening one of the biggest and best of its kind ever held in this area. The cooperation displayed by everyone in the town has been excellent and the affair promises to be an outstanding occasion.

The parade, which begins at 7:15 o'clock will feature the part being played by the citizens of the town in fire protection, civil defense and civilian participation in the war effort in general.

All of the fire departments, their auxiliaries and apparatus of the town will participate. These include Esopus, Connelly, St. Remy and Port Ewen organizations. The Civilian Defense units of the entire town will be in line and this section will include the auxiliary police, air raid wardens, messengers, auxiliary firemen, fire watchers, emergency food and housing units, medical field units, which will include the first aid group, ambulances, etc., public works organization, water department, demolition and clearance crews, road repair squads and decontamination corps.

The Town Board, Ulster County War Council and Town War Council, Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts, and the Ulster Park Grange also will take part. One of the most important features of the parade will be representations from the two big war industries located in the town of Esopus, the Hercules Powder Company and the Hiltbrand Dry Dock Co. Due to the stress of production, these representations will necessarily be limited in number.

The music for the parade will be furnished by the 4-H club of Rifton Drum and Bugle corps, Kingston Squadron No. 150, Sons of the American Legion Drum and Bugle Corps and the Port Ewen Fire Department Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps.

Fire Chief Edward Mains, who acts as marshal of the parade, has announced that the parade will be underway at 7:15 p. m. sharp. Two short blasts on the Port Ewen fire siren will set the parade in motion.

Rostov Is Lost

Russia admitted the loss of Rostov, "spigot of the Russian oil barrel" and that Red forces have had only "fluctuating success" in combating the Nazi push to cross the Don river near Tsimlyansk. The other major German push was toward the eastern Don bend and Stalingrad.

Shipping Toll Is More Than 400; 2,000 Lose Lives

Onion Boat From Havana Becomes 400th Vessel Sunk by Raiders in 233 Days

(By The Associated Press)
The toll of merchant shipping sunk by enemy submarines on the very doorstep of the Americas has topped the 400-mark and the Western Atlantic has become the grave of more than 2,000 seamen and passengers since Pearl Harbor.

Figures tabulated by the Associated Press yesterday as the announced or reported wartime sinkings in those waters reached 401 showed that at least 1,620 more crewmen or passengers were missing after attacks by the undersea raiders, while 11,766 persons have been rescued.

For the 400th acknowledged victim, a U-boat chose the smallest fry in the 233 days of their preying on allied or neutral shipping off American shores—a 16-ton onion boat just out of Havana. The sub's crew, apparently running out of rations, helped itself to 40,000 pounds of onions, canned goods and a quantity of diesel oil from the vessel.

With the deadly Axis submarines destroying ships at a rate of nearly two a day, more than 60 American shipyards with upward of 300 launching ways are employing 750,000 men and expect to have 2,000,000 on the payrolls turning out 2,300 merchantmen and 700 smaller craft by the end of next year.

The navy, meanwhile, has taken many direct steps to stop the submarine menace, including extending the convoy system to the Caribbean, opening a submarine combat school where 1,200 men are being trained to operate escort and patrol boats, obtaining hundreds of privately-owned small patrol craft, increasing blimp and plane patrols over shipping lanes.

While some of those looking ahead to tomorrow's battle of the Atlantic envision huge air freighters and cargo-carrying submarines capable of transporting 4,000-ton shipments as the answer to the problem, the state department last night announced a different type of project to cut the number of sinkings in the Caribbean and the Gulf of Mexico.

In cooperation with the United States, the department said, the Central American republics of Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica and Panama have agreed on the construction of an emergency overland route from this country to the Panama Canal.

Quota of 68 Men Leaves for Duty With U. S. Army

Large Crowd Assembles to Say 'Au Revoir' to Selectees Bound for Camp Upton

Kingston today contributed 68 more men to the cause of national defense as the group officially inducted two weeks ago left the local draft board office in the post office building at 11:30 o'clock this morning for camp Upton.

The group led by John Cahill, brother of City Judge Matthew V. Cahill, marched from the post office building to the West Shore railroad station where they boarded the noon southbound train. Cahill was placed in charge at the draft board office.

Mayor William F. Edelmuth and Henry Connelly, chairman of the local draft board, addressed the soldiers briefly as they assembled in the office.

The soldiers, who had been home on the customary two weeks leave, following their induction at Albany, were presented with cigarettes by a group of Senior Girl Scouts from Troop 11, under direction of Mrs. Fred Stang as they boarded the train. The cigarettes were a gift of local citizens and were purchased with funds raised for that purpose.

A crowd of relatives and friends of the soldiers gathered both at the post office building and later at the railroad station.

A box lunch was given each member of the group by arrangement of the government.

Among the original group inducted were five who waived their right to the 14-day furlough. They are John Van Ethen Ennis, Vivian Schoonmaker, Lester P. Wilson, Augustus R. Elmendorf and Samuel DeMuccio.

The following is the list of those who went this morning: Sickler, Edward H. Sarkies, Michael P. Todd, Maurice E. Finnerty, Vincent E. Goldman, Bernard Spader, August J. Schafer, Herman J. Markett, Leonard T. Madden, John F. Marks, Edward W. Dolan, James J. Brizee, Paul E. Coffey, Raymond J. Nef, August E. Woinoski, John P. Mellert, Leo J. Benicasa, Armando Cahill, John T. Red Star Declares Nazi Pressure Grows Harder and Harder to Meet

Rostov Is Taken

By ROGER D. GREENE (Associated Press War Editor)

Adolf Hitler's field headquarters asserted today that German troops, advancing within 50 miles of Stalingrad, had "reached or crossed the lower Don at all points" south of Kalach, and Soviet dispatches frankly conceded that it was the gravest moment of the entire war.

Kalach is on the east bank of the Don where it curves nearest to the Volga, 50 miles west of Stalingrad.

Red Star, the Russian Army newspaper, declared ominously that the pressure was becoming "more and more difficult" to meet, while other Soviet newspapers hinted anew at a need for opening an Allied second front in Europe.

The Russians acknowledged the fall of Rostov, described by the Germans as the "spigot of the Russian oil barrel," and also Novocherkassk, 20 miles northeast of Rostov.

London military quarters said the Nazis, throwing probably 625,000 troops into the assault, had been slowed somewhat after suffering heavy losses. These quarters said that the Russian army were mostly intact but that German reserves were believed to be considerable.

On the north flank, in the bloody Voronezh sector, the Germans were described as "definitely on the defensive."

Nazi military quarters asserted that German infantry and mechanized forces had swung across the Don river on a broad front east of Rostov and reached the Manych and Sal rivers at several points.

The Manych river forms an arc thrusting southeastward from Rostov-on-Don into the northern Caucasus, while the Sal stretches almost due eastward from Novocherkassk.

If true, the Nazi claim would indicate that Adolf Hitler's legions were racing headlong across the northern Caucasus toward Astrakhan, on the Caspian Sea, and also turning southward into the Caucasus itself.

Soviet dispatches said Marshal Semeon Timoshenko's Red Army, although forced to yield at Rostov and Novocherkassk, had beaten off a series of German tank and motorized infantry attacks at the big bend of the Don river before Stalingrad.

Nazi reports said thousands of Nazi dead littered the banks of the Don or floated seaward with the wreckage of pontoons smashed by Russian shells and bombs as the invaders attempted to enlarge bridgeheads across the river between Rostov and Stalingrad.

Russian newspapers stressed the gravity of the loss of Rostov, gateway to the Caucasus oil treasures, and it was acknowledged that the invaders were now half-way toward their goal of isolating the Trans-Caucasus with its riches in oil, wheat, metals and timber.

Pravda, the Communist party newspaper, pointedly declared that the Germans had withdrawn 11 divisions from France to effect the break through, thereby weakening Nazi defenses along the English Channel "invasion" coast.

Simultaneously, the Berlin radio reflected German fears of an Allied invasion with the announcement that Field Marshal Gen. Karl Gerd von Rundstedt had spent the past few days inspecting "the extensive and deeply echeloned fortification works on the north French channel coast."

London Is Silent
London military quarters, however, remained silent on the prospect for creating a second front in western Europe to relieve pressure on the direly threatened Russians.

In the battle of Egypt, sharp fighting broke out in the northern sector of the El Alamein front, 75 miles west of Alexandria, after Gen. Sir Claude J. E. Auchinleck's imperial armies lashed out at the Axis Sunday night.

British headquarters said heavy artillery duels thundered over the desert battlefield yesterday while R. A. F. bombers and fighter-bombers attacked enemy positions at battered Tobruk and El Daba.

Front-line advisers said it was believed that Australian and South African troops, who had been holding positions in the northern sector, for the 40-mile front, led the attack against Field Marshal Erwin Rommel's mechanized columns.

Italian field headquarters said the British repeatedly assaulted (Continued on Page Five)

Supreme Court Might Test F.D.R.'s Power by Ruling on 8 Saboteurs

Washington, July 28 (AP)—A possibility that President Roosevelt's wartime powers might be tested by the United States Supreme Court arose today as the nation's highest tribunal interrupted its summer recess to determine whether any of the alleged Nazi saboteurs on trial before a secret military commission are entitled to the processes prescribed by the Bill of Rights.

Chief Justice Harlan F. Stone announced through the court clerk that a special term would be held tomorrow so that counsel for "certain" of the prisoners may apply for habeas corpus writs. If the court should decide to entertain the petitions, and then grant them, the case might be transferred to a federal district court.

In appointing a military commission to try the eight suspects secretly "for offenses against the laws of war and the articles of war," President Roosevelt issued a proclamation denying any appeal to civil courts by persons who have entered the country since the war for the purpose of committing hostile acts against the government.

Informed persons, who withheld the use of their names, said petitions would be presented on behalf of seven of the eight defendants, whose testimony was completed before the military tribunal yesterday after a 16 day hearing. It was conjectured unofficially that the eighth defendant was George John Dasch, who has been represented by separate counsel.

The men are accused of coming ashore from Nazi submarines to blow up American war installations.

Presumably the high court, which is convening from vacation retreats in various parts of the country, must decide first whether it has any right even to receive the petitions before it can pass on to the question of jurisdiction.

A month after Pearl Harbor, the court refused to act on a suit brought by the Italian ambassador for recovery of a tanker seized by this country, explaining that "war suspends the right of enemy plaintiffs to prosecute actions in our courts."

Jap Beetle Battle Again This Year

While West Coast Worries East Is Fighting Invasion

By HERMAN ALLEN
(Wide World Features Writer)

Washington — While the west coast is worrying about a Japanese invasion, the east coast is fighting one.

The Japs landed in 1916 and have been occupying more ground ever since. However, our defending forces are fighting a stout battle, using a virulent bacteriological weapon, for one thing, and hope to gain the upper hand in a few more years.

These particular Japanese are the Japanese beetles, which are believed to have sneaked into the country in earth packed around the roots of iris or azalea plants. They were first noticed at Roverton, N. J., a few miles east of Philadelphia, in a nursery. Since then they have been observed as far west as St. Louis.

He's Not Choosy
The Japanese beetle devours many varieties of fruits, vegetables and ornamental plants. About the size of your little finger nail, he sports coppery brown wings and is a shining metallic green underneath. He had two small white tufts just behind his wings and five white patches along each side of his body. You can't miss him.

Popillia Japonica (as the scientific boys call him) appears in mid-June and may hang around as late as October. Although he flies quite a little, it took him from 1916 to 1925 to spread out around Philadelphia to an area of 2,200 square miles—a section of New Jersey and Pennsylvania and a little less than 50 miles square.

Marching On
By 1929 he had more than doubled that, and last summer he was spread fairly thickly over an area of 20,600 square miles—most of New Jersey and Delaware, a large part of Maryland, southeastern Pennsylvania, the area around New York city and stretching up into Connecticut and down into Virginia.

The edge of the heavily infested area has pushed outward at the rate of only five to 10 miles a year in most places.

"But these beetles are the worst hitch-hikers you ever saw," says

B. A. Porter, an Agriculture Department expert. "They'll fly into your car and start spreading new colonies hundreds of miles away. They've been found on ships at sea."

"We have trapped half a dozen in Florida, and there was quite an infestation around St. Louis in 1934. We caught 1,351 out there that year with traps but control measures worked so well that last year, with even more traps, we caught only 15."

Some Are Just Restless
"Then, in addition to the hitch-hikers, there always seems to be a certain number who just get the urge to get up and go. Those are the ones we blame for the slow but steady spread of infestation."

In the long run, the Department of Agriculture depends on a disease called "milk disease," which it is spreading, to beat the beetle. This bacterial ailment, harmless to humans, animals and plants, kills the grubs, which destroy the roots of plants and glass. Its effectiveness is shown by the fact that the beetle is scarcer now in the older infestation area around Philadelphia, where the disease was first encountered.

"Eventually," says Porter, "we hope to reduce the insect to the status of a local pest which may have its ups and downs but which should hold far below the present heavy infestation level."

"The first wave of a new infestation—and this can be regarded as fairly new—is usually the worst; then it levels off. We hope to hurry past the peak, perhaps even flatten it."

Sprays also are useful, but traps, which attract the beetles with a mixture of geraniol and eugenol, two aromatic oils, are of debatable value in heavily infested areas. They will stave off the invasion in slightly infested areas until more effective steps can be taken.

The same goes for hand-picking, which was found to have an additional drawback in some areas where a bounty was offered. Small boys proceeded to go around to the traps, empty them, fill their jars and collect $1 a quart for them.

(The Department of Agriculture cannot supply either traps or milky disease cultures to private individuals, but it has published two helpful pamphlets. Write the Superintendent of Public Documents, Washington, D. C., and ask for Farmers' Bulletin 1856 and Circular No. 594. Enclose 5 cents for each.)

'Balance' Held Need

Of Nation While at War

Nations with longer war experience than the United States have found that there is a happy medium between too much spending and too much economy.

Inasmuch as civilian life must go on concurrently with the war effort, and investment in the home is a permanent one, ownership of attractive home furnishings is considered by some as a "hedge" against inflation.

Since families with members in the fighting forces feel less like celebrating outside the home, they want their homes kept up to a good living standard, and believe that what is worth fighting for is worth fostering and preserving.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press)

So Sorry, Please
Seattle—The enemy can't bomb Seattle.

Ordinance No. 59867, adopted by a far-sighted city council years ago, provides that:

"No explosive shall be transported over any part of the city in any aeroplane or other aircraft."

1 Pair Clues

Los Angeles—Frank K. Hauser returned home wearing socks of a different hue, said his wife Adele. She became suspicious.

She came across a phone number and the woman who answered said she was Mrs. Hauser—first name, Lois.

Hauser was held for trial on a charge of bigamy.

Nice Flavor, Too

San Francisco—Three stevedores, unloading a cargo of nuts from Ecuador, sampled them generously—and went promptly to an emergency hospital.

The health department investigated and found the nuts were a substitute for castor oil beans.

Stork Duet

Portland, Ore.—A woman passenger told the bus driver the stork was about to arrive.

The bus driver hailed a passing motorist.

"Put her in there," The motorist obliged. "I'm on my way to the maternity hospital with another passenger right now."

Both babies were born later in the day.

Wrong Plug

Narunda, Ga.—C. H. Calhoun, high school vocational teacher, replaced his automobile with a horse which he named "Ration."

Making his round of farms in the neighborhood, he pulled up at one during a heavy rain storm and stopped by the garage. A low-hanging light bulb caught the horse's fancy and he bit into it. He was electrocuted.

Frisco Services Prove Popular With Soldiers

San Francisco — How many kinds of doughnuts are there?

Soldiers and sailors passing through this city can list at least six, including nut covered, sugar crusted, cake dough and the good old fried variety, which Red Cross canteen workers provide.

Nightly, brisk Motor and Canteen Corps girls, colorful in blue uniforms and veils, drive many miles to small posts in this area, delivering cans of coffee and baskets of doughnuts and sandwiches to military men on night watch.

With the assistance of restaurant workers who have offered their services and a large staff of Red Cross canteen workers, the food is prepared in a central canteen.

Pertinent Facts On Conscription

Except for unusual circumstances, the Local board is powerless to act after an Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) has been mailed to the registrant.

Brigadier General Ames T. Brown, New York State Director of Selective Service, stated today.

The circumstances permitting a possible postponement of induction are set out in Selective Service Regulations as follows:

633-1. Order to Report for Induction (Form 150). (b) The time specified for reporting shall be at least 10 days after the date the order is mailed; provided, however, in case of death or extreme emergency to a person in the registrant's immediate family, serious illness of registrant, or other extreme emergency beyond the registrant's control, the local board may, after the Order to Report for Induction (Form 150) has been issued, postpone the time when such registrant shall so report for a period not to exceed 60 days from the date of such postponement; subject, however, in cases of imperative necessity, to one further postponement for a period not to exceed 60 days.

"It should be noted," General Brown said, "that only an extreme emergency will permit the Local Board to postpone its Order to Report for Induction. This means that if the registrant wants additional time for purposes such as to settle his affairs or sell his business, the Local Board has no authority to grant such a request."

Without the extreme emergency as specified in regulations, the Local Board cannot cancel its order or postpone induction without direct order from the Director or State Director of Selective Service."

Rush D. Holt Ex-Senator Hits Comeback Trail

(Wide World Features)

Weston, W. Va.—The administration can begin to prepare now for the stinging darts of oratory from that expert dart thrower, Rush Dew Holt, although it won't be exactly the administration he berated in Washington for five years.

Holt, the "boy wonder" of 1934 when he was elected to the United States Senate, is running again—this time for a seat in the West Virginia legislature where he got his political start 12 years ago.

There had been some talk around that Holt might change his politics and go after the Republican senatorial nomination with a view to locking horns in November with his political enemy, Governor Matthew M. Neely. Neely, with less than half his term gone, is an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for the Senate, which he left in 1941.

Young Holt apparently changed his mind about that, however, and instead seeks to be Lewis County's representative in the House of Delegates—still as a Democrat.

Not a word has the 37-year-old ex-senator said but it appears obvious to most that he expects to go to Charleston and use his critical talents against the state administration which he lives NO better than the New Deal, with which he tangled early in his senatorial career.

Son of a political fire-eater who was several times mayor of Weston, Holt was first heard in the West Virginia legislature in 1931 at the age of 25.

It was the first House of Delegates controlled by Democrats in many years, although the Senate was still held by Republicans. Holt and a group of other Democrats formed an alliance which made the Senate life hard and resulted in a 108-day session before a budget bill could be passed.

He came back in 1933, when both houses were Democratic, had himself made head of a committee to investigate public utilities and thereby made himself known around the state.

This prominence was a factor in 1934 when he got into the Democratic primary race for senator—backed by the United Mine Workers and by Neely—and defeated a field of eight, including veteran Clem Shaver, former Democratic national chairman.

Waiting until his 30th birthday to sit in the Senate, Holt was not long in making himself heard. He was soon at odds with Neely and the UMWA and spent the rest of his term criticizing the New Deal—starting with the W. P. A. and moving on to foreign policy and other matters.

Losing out in his bid for re-nomination in 1940, Holt retired to his home in Weston last January.

But the "natural-born hell raiser," as he was once dubbed, is in the fight again and even his political enemies concede he can hardly be defeated in his home county.

Merchant Urges Plan Designed to Curb Inflation

Washington, July 28 (AP)—A New York merchant urged the Senate finance committee today to siphon off 25 to 30 billion dollars "surplus purchasing power" from the public through a compulsory savings plan designed to curb inflation.

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) said he agreed with the witness, Julian Goldman, that compulsory savings would serve better than taxes to take up the increase in national purchasing power.

"The thing that worries me is the machinery," Taft said. Goldman said that despite price ceilings, inflationary trends already are apparent and "black markets" are being created.

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich.) told other members of the committee that limiting individual incomes to $25,000 a year would yield only enough additional revenue to foot the nation's war bills four days and 10 hours.

Vandenberg said he presented the estimate, in the hearings on the bill to raise $6,271,000,000 in new taxes, to demonstrate just what might be expected from such a limitation.

He said the treasury department made the estimate, at his request, reporting that $660,000,000 additional revenue could be expected if a $25,000 limit were established and the tax rates voted by the House were retained.

President Roosevelt has suggested the $25,000 figure as the most an individual should have left over after paying his taxes during the war.

Rumors of Destruction Of C.C.C. Camps Disproved

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Director James J. McEntee of the Civilian Conservation Corps advised Rep. Gillie (R-Ind.) today that investigations in "hundreds" of cases had disproved rumors that serviceable government equipment was destroyed or abandoned at camps closed by the C. C. C.

Yesterday Senator Clark (D-Mo.) brought some of the reports to the attention of the senate, saying he was informed that "more than 100 cars and trucks, tires, some of them serviceable, were burned along with rubber over-shoes and other rubber articles" at the Florida, Mo., camp.

The senator said that Allen Rogers, commander of a Veteran Foreign Wars Post at Chillicothe, Mo., relayed the report and said he got it from a Laclede enrollee recently discharged from the camp.

Another instance Clark cited was that a "very responsible" official of the Federal Forestry Service told him that at the Troy, Mo., camp "more than 200 trucks, some of them with practically new tires, were simply abandoned." He added that Senator Herring (D-Iowa) had told him that at Des Moines a large number of trucks in good condition were about to be junked.

McEntee wrote Representative Gillie (R-Ind.), who had forwarded a complaint from a constituent citing a report of the destruction of overcoats, rubber shoes and articles left over when the C. C. C. camp at Kendallville, Ind., was closed recently.

Tanker Smashes Bridge

Chesapeake City, Md., July 28 (AP)—An oil tanker smashed into the Chesapeake and Delaware Canal just before noon today, plunging the huge structure into the canal. First reports said no one was on the bridge, and that no one was injured. The tanker, southbound in Chesapeake Bay, struck the south concrete abutment, and part of the bridge fell upon the bow of the ship, witnesses said. A hole was smashed through the port bow of the vessel, John M. Reed, Jr., Chesapeake city merchant, said.

Thousands of Motorists Have Stored Their Cars

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Thousands of motorists already have stored or scrapped their automobiles, O.P.A. said today, reporting that preliminary figures from part of the eastern gasoline rationing area showed a 10 per cent drop in registrations for the new ration books.

Projecting the reduction through the entire area, O.P.A. estimated that perhaps 700,000 fewer passenger cars may be in operation now, compared with the 7,453,382 registered last May under the temporary ration plan.

War Reaches Gravest Point

The Italian Trento division and the 90th German light division yesterday but failed to gain.

On Britain's home front, German raiders touched off London's first night alarm since June 3 and struck in considerable force in the industrial Midlands.

German reports said 200 Nazi bombers raided Birmingham, dropping "very heavy" high-explosive bombs on the big industrial city 50 miles northwest of London. The British admitted fires and damage in the Birmingham area, but said the Germans lost eight bombers out of a force of 50 to 70 planes—considerably above the 10 per cent "safety mark" for losses.

Five bombs dropped in fields near London, the British said, but no damage was reported. Other Nazi raiders flew over north England, the southwest coast and East Anglia.

The R. A. F.'s big bombers, which blasted the German port of Hamburg in a 600-plane raid Sunday night, stayed home. In the Far Pacific war theatre, Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters announced today that Allied warplanes blasted Japan's expanded positions in New Guinea while United Nations ground patrols maintained contact with the enemy.

Military dispatches said the Japanese had advanced nearly 50 miles inland since their landing last week at Gona Mission, across the mountainous, 120-mile-wide Papua Peninsula from the key Allied outpost at Port Moresby, New Guinea.

The next few days, it was said, probably would disclose whether the invaders planned a land assault on Port Moresby, which would be a convenient springboard for a Japanese attempt to invade Australia.

Small forces of Japanese bombers twice raided Darwin in northern Australia last night, while an enemy flying boat which attempted to attack Townsville, far down on the northeast Australian coast, was driven off by anti-aircraft fire.

Gen. MacArthur's headquarters said ground patrol activity was in progress near Olivi, between Kokoda and Buna, in New Guinea, where some American troops are known to be stationed.

On the China front, a Chinese spokesman said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's armies had widened their reopened gap on the Nanchang-Hangchow railway to 50 miles after the Japanese claimed to have occupied the key rail line completely.

Butler Says Federal Agencies Confused Public

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Wiley Butler, chairman of the Atlantic Coast Independent Fuel Oil Dealers, told a House committee today he looked "with dread to winter if we don't stop delivery of essential gasoline to the eastern market and bring in fuel oil instead."

Butler, vice president and general manager of the Home Fuel Oil Company, Passaic, N. J., said approximately 4,000,000 gallons of gasoline above the rationing quota was moving into the east daily.

Declaring too many government agencies were "dabbling" in the problem, Butler told the committee that "federal agencies have confused the public to such an extent that they (the public) take it all as a hoax."

The public, he said, was not trying to conserve gas because it did not believe the situation warranted it.

"I am alarmed about the fuel oil situation next winter," remarked Representative Fitzgerald (D-Conn.), committee chairman.

"People will be cold unless a stock pile can be built up. Rationing should be nation wide. This is everybody's war. We should make an example of those bootlegging gas and of those buying it by giving them a jail sentence and fine."

Sustains Injury in Collision of Autos

One person was injured slightly in a two-car collision shortly before 8 o'clock this morning at Broadway and Henry street, according to a police report of the accident.

Francis Osterhoudt of 109 Clinton avenue, a soldier home on leave, according to the police, was driving in a sedan east on Henry street and John H. Creamer of Hartford, Conn., was headed west on Henry street and was turning around in front of 19 Henry street when the two collided.

Violet A. Osterhoudt, it was reported, suffered a bump on her head and shock. The Osterhoudt car was damaged on its left front fender, running board and on one door. The other machine had a damaged front bumper and fender and other lesser damage.

Axes and Stones Suggested

Moscow, July 28 (AP)—In an article entitled "The Fate of Russia," the army paper Red Star today called on every woman and child to take up axes and stones to attack the German invaders. "The fate of Russia depends upon our generation," it said. "If the Germans conquer us, the generation now five to 10 years old will spit upon us when it is grown up."

A.L.P. 'Rides High' To Elect Mead

New York, July 28 (AP)—The power-balancing American Labor Party was riding high today on the New Deal bandwagon for the candidacy of Senator James M. Mead for the Democratic nomination for governor.

The party's state executive committee, controlled by the A.L.P. Right Wing, followed the action of the Left-Wingers who previously had backed the man who enjoys the blessings of President Roosevelt and Governor Lehman in the race.

The committee's action came at the close of a day during which Mead opened campaign headquarters while State Chairman James A. Farley declared the Mead boom was "a little blitzkrieg" doomed to failure and claimed the nomination was in the bag for State Attorney General John J. Bennett, Jr.

The Republicans, with former District Attorney Thomas E. Dewey their apparently unopposed candidate for the G.O.P. nomination, likewise appeared unruffled at the latest move despite the fact it was the A.L.P. which nipped out Dewey in the 1938 gubernatorial battle by throwing its weight behind Lehman.

The A.L.P. state committee in endorsing Mead withdrew its threat of a week ago to enter a third party ticket unless the Democratic party could produce a candidate more acceptable to the A.L.P. than Bennett.

Solution Of Yesterday's Puzzle

Nine Corps Areas Become Service Commands

Reorganization of the nine Corps Areas of the Army, and redesignation of them as "Service Commands," was announced today by the War Department. The reorganization was ordered on July 22 by Lieutenant General Brehon B. Somervell, commanding general, Services of Supply, with a twofold purpose as follows:

1. To decentralize further the operation of activities of the Services of Supply by increasing the authority of commanding generals in the field and by giving them proportionately increased responsibility.

2. To improve and streamline the field organizations by eliminating duplicating facilities.

The Service Commands supervise the Army camps and posts, service the troops with supplies and equipment, induct the new selectees, and generally handle the administrative details necessary to maintaining a large army.

Comprehensive instructions have been issued to all commanding generals in the new Service Commands, redefining and redesignating duties, in order that their supply and administrative functions may be geared completely to war-time operation.

The administration and house-keeping of all troops in the re-organizing areas is now covered in the new Service Commands. Under the new plan, money will be allotted in one lump sum to each Service Command. Formerly money was allotted to each of the units within the Corps Area by its parent unit in Washington. This change will result in extensive simplification of fiscal and accounting work.

The reorganization of the Corps Areas has been under study since March 9, when the Army was reorganized under three commands, the Services of Supply, the Ground Forces, and the Air Forces. Since that date the Corps Areas have been under the command of the Services of Supply.

There will be no change in the geographical boundaries, the new Service Commands covering the same territory as the old Corps Areas. The numerals used to designate the Corps Areas will also be continued, so that the First Corps Area will now be known as the First Service Command. Since October 8, 1940, Corps Area commanders have had no tactical responsibility. That responsibility continues to rest with the Ground Forces and Air Forces officers.

In effect, the reorganization creates nine autonomous Services of Supply in the field, each to function under the direction of the commanding general, Services of Supply in Washington, but each a self-functioning unit responsible for servicing the troops of each area.

"One early and tangible result of this reorganization," General Somervell wrote in his July 22 order, "must be the maximum utilization of existing personnel with a consequent reduction in the number of officers and civilians on duty at Service Command headquarters and installations."

"Within the framework of this reorganization, commanders of Service Commands are given and are expected to exercise maximum initiative in the efficient and businesslike organization of details."

"It must be remembered that organization alone will not achieve the results demanded of Service Commands in this war. The best available men must be selected for each major job and must be given full authority and responsibility for its performance. Commanders must be ruthless in relieving men who do not produce efficient and prompt results."

"Above all there must be an all-pervading and unswerving resolve to execute successfully the grave duties and responsibilities imposed upon us by this war regardless of personal sacrifices and hours of work. No more reorganization can accomplish this. Commanders of Service Commands must instill this resolve in each of their subordinates by personal example and by exercising to the utmost, with aggressiveness and a bold disregard for anachronistic precedents, the authority delegated to them to accomplish their missions."

the need for conservation of spray materials which are becoming scarce and expensive because of shortages of transportation and supply. The station specialists point out that spray materials which are rapidly weathered off the fruit and foliage cannot be very effective for protection against insects and diseases. This source of waste can be reduced by adding a sticking agent to the spray formula.

"Sticking and spreading agents are often grouped together as spray supplements but actually they are directly opposed to each other in their action," say the station workers, who continue,
"Spreaders are mostly used in contact sprays in which a maximum penetration of the spray is desired and sticking is not important. Stickers on the other hand, increase the adhesion of powdered fungicides and insecticides which must be retained on the surface for some time in order to obtain their full protective effects."

"To insure continued protection of orchard crops from insects and diseases, further research on better sticking for the common spray materials is needed."

New York City Produce Market

New York, July 28 (AP)—Bad news was brushed off without a great deal of trouble by today's stock market although rallying tendencies were feeble and notably selective.

While buying was light from the start, selling was equally negligible and, with volume just a trifle larger than in the previous sluggish session, the trend was no worse than moderately mixed later.

Encouraging to bullish contingents was the ability of the list to maintain its balance in the face of the fall of Rostov to the Nazis, reports of sharply declining profits in the first half for many industrial corporations and persistent confusion over inflation.

Bonds were steady. Major commodities retreated.

U. S. O. Fund Is More Than $17,000

Reports received over the week-end by County Judge J. Edward Conway, Ulster County Chairman of the U. S. O. War Fund drive, have brought the totals up to slightly over $17,000 in the drive to raise $28,500.

While reports from the city of Kingston continue to come in slowly, some of the town chairmen report substantial gains and several of the townships are close to their quotas. The solicitation will continue until the quota is reached.

Three Men Killed, Two Missing in Old Barge Blast

Paducah, Ky., July 28 (AP)—Three men were killed and two others are missing after an oil tank barge, on which they were working, exploded in the Ohio river early today.

The dead were listed as Tilford Duncan and Parvin Cochran, employees of the Ayer-Lord Marine Ways, and Jefferson L. Watson, pump boat operator for the West Kentucky Coal Company.

Missing are Robert E. Vasseur and Owen Fallowell, both Ayer-Lord employees. All from Paducah.

J. C. Meyers, foreman of the crew which was washing out the fuel barge at the edge of the Illinois shore across from Paducah, was the only survivor. He suffered minor burns and shock.

Meyers said that he was stepping from the deck of the barge to the pump boat when a tremendous blast hurled him into an oil fill on the bank 50 yards away. As he struggled to get out of waist-deep sludge a second blast knocked him unconscious. He was wandering, dazed, when coast guardsmen from the local base found him.

A number of windows were shattered along Paducah's riverfront from the force of the blast on the opposite shore.

New York Declines Joint Blackout Offer

Trenton, N. J., July 28 (AP)—An invitation to join New Jersey and Pennsylvania in a simultaneous, surprise blackout has been declined by New York state. Director of Civilian Defense Leonard Dreyfuss said today.

The two-state blackout has been scheduled for a secret date next month and it had been hoped by Dreyfuss that populous New York state would join in blackening a huge section of the east.

But Major General William H. Haskell, (retired), New York director of civilian defense, wrote Dreyfuss that, under his policy, blackouts and tests in New York comprised only two or three warning districts at a time, the New Jersey director asserted.

Would Change Technique

Albany, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—If Captain J. Lansing Callan, U.S.N.—the man who introduced the Japanese to the airplane—could roll time backwards 31 years he'd employ a different technique for the job. In 1911 at Hammondsport, Ind., working for Glenn Curtiss, he instructed the first two Japs who ever learned to fly. One of them was Nakishima, now one of Japan's largest plant manufacturers. "It's too bad I didn't dunk him," declared Captain Callan, in Albany on leave.

U. S. Jurisdiction

London, July 28 (AP)—A bill providing for the exercise of criminal jurisdiction over American soldiers in Britain and Northern Ireland by United States military courts was passed for its first reading in the House of Lords today. However, it provides that in cases where United States authorities request it, British civil courts may try American offenders. The bill is considered urgent and final action by Parliament is expected quickly.

Kallop's Bail Increased

Carl Kallop, who has been under $5,000 bail following indictment by the grand jury some time ago, was brought into county court this morning and bail in his case was increased to $8,000. Benjamin Lonslein appearing for Kallop asked to be given until Wednesday to provide the additional bail. The request was granted. Kallop formerly resided on the Boulevard in Kingston.

28 Persons Executed By Nazis at Lille

Vichy, July 28 (AP)—The Germans announced today the execution of 28 persons at Lille on conviction of a series of offenses, including sabotage, possession of weapons and Communist activity.

Most of those condemned were mine workers in the Lille region.

At the same time French courts at Douai, a suburb of Lille, sentenced two persons to life in prison for stealing ration cards, and 28 others to a total of 40 years in prison. Most of them also were miners.

Delayed advices from Courtrai, also in the Lille region, said an unspecified but considerable number of persons had been arrested as hostages after five fires were started in one night.

The German announcement declared that a number of persons was arrested "for sympathy" and that radios and bicycles were being confiscated.

Sentence Suspended

Michael Daffy, who gave his address as R. F. D. Canajoharie, was given a suspended sentence in city court this morning on a public intoxication charge. He was arrested shortly before 10 o'clock last night and lodged in jail pending arraignment this morning.

Society Will Hold Ulster County Fair At Forsyth Park

The Ulster County Fair and Farmers' Field Day will take place as originally scheduled for Wednesday, August 19. This decision was made at a special meeting Monday night of the directors of the Ulster County Agricultural Society at the meeting which was well attended.

Albert Kurdt, county agricultural agent, and secretary of the Agricultural Society, reported on the incidents of the past week which caused Mr. Barnes to call this special meeting. Word had been received that it would not be possible for the 4-H group to operate the extensive food booths at the fair this year. A letter was read from Mayor William F. Edeluth which in part stated as follows: "You may rest assured of my complete cooperation and any privileges which you enjoyed in the past will be again accorded to you this year."

In making final arrangements for the fair it was decided to add another class in the horse department. Premiums will now also be offered for three-year-old colts in the heavy horse classes, in addition to the others included in the premium list.

Another problem presented itself at the meeting. In a check-up of the materials used for the fair it was discovered that a large part of the wood used for partitions and the racks for the horses and cattle had been stolen. Apparently most of the material was cut in shorter pieces at the place of storage and used for firewood.

Director Frank G. Elliott of New Paltz volunteered to donate the necessary poles to the society, but they will have to be cut and hauled to Kingston.

A new feature of the fair will be a large 40 x 100 foot tent which will be erected for the first time. This will house the Grange exhibits, some of the 4-H Club exhibits and some of the educational exhibits.

The directors emphasized that, as stated in the premium list, no entries will be accepted after August 15, can be accepted. This is made necessary by the need for more careful planning because of less help being available and the scarcity of materials. Plans for the actual allocation of exhibit space will be made on Sunday, August 16, and only entries for which official entry blanks have been received will be accepted.

Those present at the directors' meeting Monday night were as follows: President Barnes, Harry J. Beatty, Pratt Boice, John H. Saxe, A. H. Chambers, Frank G. Elliott, Raymond V. O. DuBois, Otto Moltenhauer, Robert G. Groves, Franklin Kelder, Edmund R. Bower, Cyril G. Small and Albert Kurdt.

Progress Reported In the Synthetic Rubber Program

Washington, July 28 (AP)—William Farish, president of Standard Oil Company (New Jersey), said today that "real progress" had been made to overcome the "bottleneck" in butadiene production in the nation's synthetic rubber program.

Testifying before a Senate agricultural subcommittee, Farish said that if more butadiene, basic ingredient of buna rubber, could be produced quickly, the entire program could be speeded up by several months.

"We were able to find in our refineries the byproduct to produce 45,000 tons per annum of butadiene," Farish reported. "This is all the Rubber Reserve Company wanted us to make. We can make more, and we offered to make more, without interfering with our commitments to the government on 100 octane aviation gasoline."

He said he believed his own company alone would be able to produce at a rate of 15,000 to 30,000 tons of butadiene in makeshift facilities by the first of the year, entirely aside from the government program.

The extra production involved no plant construction but the operations will be inefficient and the cost will be higher than that for properly designed new plants, Farish said.

"But the important thing is that the oil industry is actually going to be able to produce some real amount of butadiene by these methods well in advance of the regular program," he declared, and since butadiene is the bottleneck, the program is so much additional rubber.

Farish and O. E. May, research coordinator for the Department of Agriculture, were called before the subcommittee to report on progress in the development of synthetic rubber processes.

Romantic Songs Are Out

New York, July 28 (AP)—The composer of such plaintive tunes as "Love, Come Back to Me" says romance in songs is out for the duration so far as the soldier is concerned. "The need is for songs that will arouse the nation's armed forces, not soothe them," declared Sigmund Romberg as leading American song writers gathered to discuss a program for creating war songs.

"War is a bloody and realistic business. Songs to inspire the fighting mood, rather than dreams of the girls they left behind, are what we now need."

'Lombardiers' Is Chosen

Kokomo, Ind., July 28 (AP)—Governor Henry F. Schricker has selected "Lombardiers," a name dedicated to the memory of Carole Lombard—as the designation for a naval air squadron being recruited in central Indiana. Miss Lombard was killed in an airplane accident en route home to Hollywood after conducting one of the nation's first war bond drives in Indianapolis.

Railways of India shipped many miles of track to Britain to supply steel for defense.

Raid on Tokyo Gave Internees Big Thrill

called a "hotel," was one of six such establishments they picked out in the Hongkong slums for their preliminary internment.

While Tokyo boasted that Japan was observing rules of the Geneva convention, we were packed like animals—men, women and children—into vermin-ridden cubicles, many without daylight, and forced to sleep on bare opium couches, floors and chairs reeking with filth.

For the first 30 hours there was no food at all. Then there were wretched rice rations, supplemented by microscopic issues of vegetables and meat. Even these scant handouts were pilfered by servants, necessitating a watchful eye on every crumb.

The drinking water was dangerous and we were not permitted to boil it. There were no lights to be had at all. Walking a narrow roof space was the only exercise possible.

Marched by Armed Escorts
After 17 days of this we were marched by armed escorts a mile and a half to a steamer bound for the Stanley internment camp on the opposite side of Hongkong Island.

En route we saw two gendarmes beat a Chinese to death after a trivial disturbance in a rice queue.

The Stanley camp was without lights, sufficient meat, beds, bedding, furniture or cooking facilities.

All the 3,000 internees eventually were billeted in the shell-damaged prison and officers' quarters and in adjoining St. Stephen's College for Chinese where bodies of British soldiers still were found late in the spring.

Kembles Plead Innocent; Other Cases Are Heard

Urban T. Kemble and his wife Myrtle, of Lucas avenue extension, were arraigned in County Court Monday afternoon before County Judge J. Edward Conway on charges of abortion and attempted abortion. Both pleaded not guilty and bail was continued.

Chris J. Flanagan, counsel, was given 20 days to make further applications in the matter.

District Attorney N. LeVan Haver arraigned the two under three indictments. The first charge of abortion, alleged to have taken place on April 1, 1942, brought a not guilty plea. The second charge attempted abortion on April 17, and the third bill charged in two counts abortion and attempted abortion on April 16, 1942. After entering pleas to all charges of not guilty bail for Urban T. Kemble in the sum of $2,500 and $1,500 for Mrs. Kemble was ordered continued.

In the case of John Doviak, charged with a violation of Section 1897, Subdivision 4, illegal possession of a firearm, Harry Gold appeared for the defendant and a plea of an attempt to commit the crime was entered. Doviak had previously been convicted of a felony and District Attorney Haver asked that sentence be delayed in order that he might file charges of being a second offender against the defendant. Judge Conway postponed imposition of sentence until Friday at 10 o'clock.

Amos Perry, Jr., who had previously pleaded guilty to assault, second degree, was given a year in jail when District Attorney Haver asked the court to consider the withdrawal of the former guilty plea and the receiving of a plea of guilty to a violation of Section 483-B, a misdemeanor. He said the probation officer's report indicated that Perry probably could make good if given a chance. The plea was changed and Perry was given a year in jail.

Richard Evenger of East Haddam, Mass., charged along with two other youths with having entered the Charles Schneider home in Port Ewen, will be sentenced on Friday at 10 o'clock. District Attorney Haver asked for time to file a charge alleging a former conviction for a felony against Evenger.

Walter E. Henning of Saugerties produced additional cash bail. Charged with illegal possession of a firearm, he was represented by Chris J. Flanagan, and when the court demanded additional bail the defendant was given until Monday to secure the additional amount. He has already pleaded not guilty.

Walter Wells was given a year in the county jail on his plea of guilty to unlawful entry. In sentencing Wells, Judge Conway said that Wells was pleading guilty to a minor offense but his past record indicated he had been unable to adjust himself. He was remanded to the custody of Sheriff Anderson.

Elijah Quick of Samsonville was sentenced to a year in jail when he too pleaded guilty of a misdemeanor. A former plea of guilty to assault, second degree, was withdrawn and the lesser charge pleaded to. His case was similar to the Perry case.

Chris J. Flanagan moved for the dismissal of a disorderly conduct charge against Eleanor Smith and Samuel DiMuccio of Kingston. The charge has been pending some time and he told the court that DiMuccio was leaving this week for the army and he asked that the bills against both defendants be dismissed. District Attorney Haver consented and the order was entered. Bail was exonerated.

Court recessed until Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

July Milk Price Estimate of $2.50 Better than 1929 Rate

New York, N. Y., July 28.—A uniform price of $2.50 a hundredweight (46.51 quarts) was estimated today as the rate of return dairy farmers of the six states of the New York milkshed will collect for the milk they have hauled this month to 479 plants forming the metropolitan milk pool.

Announcing the forecast late today, N. J. Cladakis, administrator of the New York metropolitan milk marketing area, pointed out that it is 20 cents above the price of $2.30 for July, 1941, for a gain of 8.7 per cent.

Estimating the month's production at 565,000,000 pounds, the administrator reported that the farm value of the July pool should reach $14,125,000 at the uniform price and that the value of butterfat and location payments should push up the yield to the neighborhood of $14,600,000.

"If the price and production forecasts are valid, the July pool," the administrator commented, "will rank as the third richest on record, falling in place behind the May and June record pools of this year."

"Our predicted rate of return, moreover, is the highest for July since 1919 and 1920 when $3.22 and $3.16, respectively, were paid according to a compilation of blended prices since 1910 published by Cornell University."

"July, therefore, appears likely to be the first month since the federal-state marketing orders began to function in 1938 in which the blended price has surpassed the rate for the same month in 1929. The July 1929 rate was $2.47.

"While the July estimated price is only 8.7 per cent better than the rate of July last year, the expected yield is better than that month's return by 22 per cent. The July pool of 1941 was worth only $11,566,786.80 at the uniform price of $2.30.

New Paltz State College Students Are 'Air-Minded'

During the current Summer session at the New Paltz State Teachers College an interesting program relating to aviation is being presented to the student body. The purpose of the program is to emphasize to public school teachers the importance that aviation is playing now in our military forces and the importance it will play in our cultural and commercial relationships in the post-war era. The program was first introduced to representatives of the college staff in a meeting held at Syracuse last spring at which time Dr. Herman Cooper, assistant commissioner for teacher education and certification of the state education department, charged the New York State Teachers Colleges with the responsibility of awakening the personnel of the public schools of the state to the on-coming air age.

Two special courses dealing with the air age, "Social Impacts of Aviation in Modern Society," taught by B. H. Matteson; and "Meteorology and Aeronautics," taught by Mrs. Charlotte Taylor, have been included in the summer school curriculum. In addition, a series of assembly programs have been arranged by Dr. Howard J. Mosher for the entire student body. Several interesting sound films have been employed which have pictured the technical problems of aviation and also explained the problems of routine production of aircraft.

A trip to the Walden airport was arranged by Dr. Mosher on Monday and Tuesday of last week. Forty-six students and three faculty members availed themselves of the opportunity to obtain first-hand experience about aeronautics by taking a ride in a plane. In many instances the ride was the passenger's initial experience in the air. The students expressed considerable enthusiasm over their flight.

On last Friday the students of the aeronautics course, under Mrs. Taylor's direction, discussed the principles of physics which explain the operation of an airplane in flight to the assembly audience. Many interesting experiments were conducted in explanation of the principles under discussion. The entire assembly program served to illustrate to the audience how the elementary-school teacher, through the application of science material to the field of aeronautics, can condition young children to the meaning and importance of the on-coming air age.

How to Identify Yourself When Answering Business Telephone

Usually, in an office where one telephone is used by a number of persons a man says, "Smith speaking." If there are several Smiths in the office he says, "Arthur Smith speaking." When an executive's secretary answers, "Mr. Smith's office," for him, Mr. Smith need say nothing further than "Hello" or "Hello, Mr. Jones." This is in reply to a young man who asks, "Should I answer a business telephone, 'John Smith speaking' or 'This is Mr. Smith?'"

When Husband is Mr. and Wife Dr.
Dear Mrs. Post: My mother is a doctor (MD). I would like to know about my wedding invitations and announcements. (a) Should her name appear as Dr. or Mrs.?

Answer: (a) If she is a practicing physician and known to everyone as Dr. Smith, then your father's and her name together must be engraved Mr. Henry and Dr. Mabel Smith. If she has given up her practice or if she has ever been known socially as Mrs. Smith, then this is the way her name should appear on the invitations and announcements.

Presenting Usually Left at Home
Dear Mrs. Post: The reception is taking place at a hotel in town. Do you think we should have all of the wedding presents taken to the hotel and arrange them for display so our relatives and friends—many of whom are coming from out of town—will be able to see them? My bridesmaids are all coming from a distance. When are they supposed to be asked to arrive?

Answer: Those who live near enough to come to your house to see your presents the day before the wedding, should be invited to do so. Perhaps those from a distance could be taken to the house to see them after the wedding and before they return home. The bridesmaids always arrive the day before the wedding and accommodations for the night must be supplied by you. Either they stay with you or with friends of yours who invite them, or else you take rooms for them. In any case they are your guests.

Clothes for Afternoon Dances
Dear Mrs. Post: We are having many of our local dances in the afternoon because of air raid warnings and dimouts. Last year in the evening we always wore long summer evening dresses and no hats and the men wore white coats and black trousers. But what are we supposed to wear at big dances in the afternoon?

Answer: Any becoming summer dresses. Short skirts at present, but if you happen to have—and would like to—long skirts, these would be equally proper; but I doubt this year if many have bought them especially.

Good Canning With Boiling Water Bath

Ithaca, N. Y. — For many years the pressure cooker has been recommended for canning vegetables. This year, because of a lack of cookers, many persons will have to rely on the old boiling water bath for canning.

Even though home economics teachers have said that such vegetables as spinach and corn should be canned under pressure, it can be done in boiling water, says the college of home economics at Cornell, but success depends on quick action.

The vegetables keep better when they are picked and canned immediately, rather than picked the night before. The college gives these directions:

Put clean empty jars into the boiling water. Take out one, fill it with the hot vegetable, and put it back immediately into the boiling water before either the jar or the vegetable has time to cool. Then another jar may be taken out, filled and returned, and so on until the canner is full.

Examine all home-canned food before it is used. The best test is a good odor to the foods. Next comes appearance. Bubbles, sediment in the bottom, cloudy liquid, and off-colors indicate spoiled food. The last test is to taste the product, but first boil suspected food for ten minutes.

Canned food should be stored in a cold, dark place to retain color, flavor, and food values.

The San Pedro, which sank off the coast of Venezuela years ago, is believed to have over $50,000,000 aboard.

Recreations Are Ready to Reap Revenge on Elites Wednesday

Famous Negro Club Plays Locals Here At Stadium 9 P. M.

Hoffman Selects Tulacz for Mid-Week Clash; Great Negro Stars Are Coming Here

One of the biggest attractions of the 1942 baseball season at the municipal stadium will be staged Wednesday night when the famous Baltimore Elite Giants engage the Kingston Recreations. Game time is 9 o'clock.

For the last two seasons the Elites have tripped the local semi-pro club to defeat but this year things are looking up for Kingston. Manager Joe Hoffman has selected his veteran hurler, John "Whitey" Tulacz, to do the pitching in this game and that means good news for local customers.

"They beat us 14-5 last year with Charlie Neff on the mound," remarked Manager Joe Hoffman last night, "but I'm pretty confident that Tulacz will stop them this time. We have a big job on our hands as I think the Elites have the classiest club in Negro ball today." The local skipper went on to say that his boys are prepared for this battle and are looking forward to getting some revenge for those two other pastings.

As it has been said in all previous big games Tulacz is Kingston's best bet. Whitey has pitched himself to some great victories already, his latest being over the famous Brooklyn Bushwicks. By giving his best for Kingston this year Tulacz has earned himself the right to pitch against the Boston Braves of the National League next Thursday night, August 6.

Campinella Will Come

The Elites will come to Kingston with a power-laden lineup of speed hitters and exceptionally fine moundsmen. The big swingers with the visitors are Bill Hoskins, Bill Wright, Roy Campinella, Jake Spearman and George Scales. However, the entire lineup packs plenty of power.

The pitching staff of the Giants is loaded with the league's ranking hurlers, headed by Bill Byrd, a hefty six-footer who throws from the right side and Emory "Ace" Adams, another right-hander. Byrd and Adams with Jonas Gaines, young southpaw, and Tom Glover, who returned from Mexico this season, and a third left-hander, Bill Harvey, former Pittsburgh Crawford star, who also was in Mexico, are included among the mainstays of the staff. A fourth pitcher with the club is Jesse Brown, while Bill Barnes and Andy Porter, round out the staff.

Last year Adams won 16 and lost five, allowing 114 hits in 149 two-thirds innings. He permitted 43 runs and struck out 83. He issued 68 walks. Byrd copped 14 out of 18 last year and pitched in 83 innings. He gave up 47 hits and 19 runs and struck out 61. Gaines, the boy who handed the Homestead Grays their only shut-out in league competition, won 13 and lost three. He pitched in 132 and one-third innings and gave 97 hits. He allowed 45 runs, struck out 125 and gave up only 41 free tickets to first.

There's also plenty of strength in the outfield and infield with such stars as Hoskins, Scales, Wright, Spearman, Jim Kimbro, Manager Felton Snow, "Pee Wee" Butts, Sammy Hughes and a host of others.

Last year Butts, shortstop, paced the club with 82 runs. Hoskins led the batters with a .377 batting average while Scales followed with .355. Spearman collected the most hits, 107 and most doubles of 21. Hoskins and Campinella tapped out six triples. Campinella led the Negro National League with homers, taking the title away from Josh Gibson of the Homesteads. Campinella is the boy who the Philadelphia Phils have signed in case major league teams agree on using Negro ball players.

Manager Hoffman will use Ralph Coleman, Manny Gomez, Jimmy Girvan and Buddy Van Herpe in the infield along with Tommy Maines, Ernie Downer and Angelo Lucchi in the outfield. Whitey Kowalczyk will catch.

Bettina Will Box Dorazio Tonight; Pursue to Family

Fighters Must Finish Their Business as Phillies Have Ball Game Wednesday Night

Philadelphia, July 28 (AP)—Mello Bettina on deck for his last fight for the duration and he's hoping—for his parents' sake—his 10-round bout with Gus Dorazio goes through tonight at Shibe Park.

Weather caused postponement of the battle last night and should the same barrier come up again, it'll be a much sadder Bettina family when the Beacon, N. Y., heavy-weight enters the army Thursday at Camp Upton, L. I.

Mello has planned to turn over his entire purse to his parents to keep them comfortable while he's in the army. But the Phils have a baseball game scheduled in Shibe Park tomorrow night and that means no Bettina-Dorazio fight at all if the fighters don't finish their business this evening.

Despite the postponement, promoter Herman Taylor expects a crowd of between 18,000 and 20,000 for the second meeting of the rivals.

Bettina will be seeking his 34th straight victory since he left his light-heavyweight championship to become a heavyweight. He's a 3 to 1 favorite to take the Philadelphia, who, given up as a has-been a year ago, has come back to whip Lou Brooks, lose a close one to Bettina, and then trounce Harry Bobo. Each time, the odds were against him.

Bettina weighed in at 186½ yesterday, just 10 pounds lighter than Dorazio. Both are expected to pick up about four pounds today.

NELSON, HEAFNER PLAY OFF FOR TITLE

Byron Nelson, (left) carding an unbelievable 77 on the last 18 after an incredible 65 for the previous round, found himself in a 72-hole tie at 280 with Clayton Heafner in the Tam-O'Shanter $15,000 open golf meet at Chicago. An extra round was necessary to decide the title.

Dodgers, Giants Meet Next Monday for Army

All Receipts of Game at Polo Grounds Go to Army Relief Fund

At Toots Shor's Restaurant in New York city Monday afternoon members of the official parties of the New York Giants and Brooklyn Dodgers assembled to corral the help of all sports writers to boost the game between the two great National League clubs at the Polo Grounds Monday, August 3, at 7 o'clock.

Horace Stoneham, prey of the Giants and Larry MacPhail, president of the Dodgers, sat side by side in arranging for the expected $100,000 gate for the Army Relief Fund. The two secretaries of the clubs, Eddie Brannick of the Giants and John McDonald of Brooklyn, also were on hand and for once their rivalry was at bay.

The hated rivalry which has long been carried on by these two metropolitan teams was forgotten yesterday, however. All of the club officials were interested in one big thing—to arrange for the big game next Monday night. Games will be open at the Polo Grounds at 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Many pre-game ceremonies have been planned. Once the gates open, they'll stay open. No fans will be turned away. The park seats about 54,000 spectators but with the S. R. O. up there should be 60,000 or more.

Everyone connected with the game—Stoneham, MacPhail, Brannick, McDonald, the umpires, players, all newspaper and radio men will pay their way into the park at regular prices. It's the one big effort to help the relief fund and all will be out to do their part.

So far this year the Dodgers have defeated the Giants in six out of 11 games which makes Monday's night battle a "natural." These two clubs have always caught the fancy of baseball fans. But this one time the clubs are out to do the army relief fund a sporting gesture. Ticket sales are reported to be going along at a fast clip. Baseball broadcasts have announced that fans are welcomed to bring in checks for tickets which will then be given to some war-torn soldier. The New York Chapter of Baseball Writers also has put it on the line to buy tickets for the service men.

Donations for any amount for the purchase of tickets for service men visiting in New York may be sent to the Herald-Tribune sports department in New York city or to the downtown office of the New York Giants at 104 West 42nd street, New York city.

Red Sox Register 8 to 5 Win Over Cleveland Indians

Hub Clubbers Capture Second Place With Victory in Only Game on Slate

(By The Associated Press)

Always a bridesmaid, but never a bride seems to describe the Boston Red Sox.

They tremble and falter every time they are led to the first place altar of the American League, but they are as full of fury as a woman scorned whenever their right to second place is encroached upon.

Second place was at stake yesterday as they opened a four-game series with the Cleveland Indians. The two foes were deadlocked in games won and lost reckoning, but the Sox had an edge in percentage, .558 to .556.

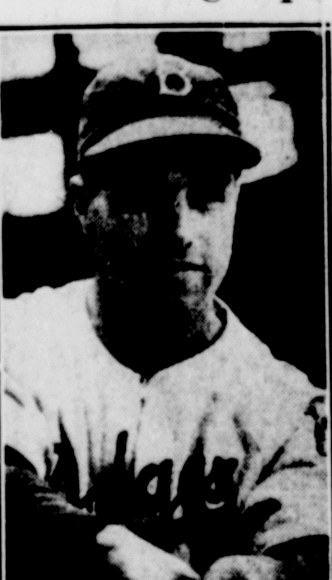

They got ahead of Al Milnar in the eighth and polished off the performance with three runs in the ninth off their old teammate, Joe Heving, who walked two men ahead of a triple by Johnny Pesky, who then came home on a single by Williams.

This was the only game in the major leagues that escaped a rude weatherman. As a result, three doubleheaders were scheduled for the National League today with attention centered on the St. Louis Cardinals' invasion of Brooklyn.

Races Postponed
Old Orchard Beach, Me., July 28 (AP)—The $4,500 stake for baby trotters, with 10 entries foaled in 1940, and four other races postponed yesterday because of weather comprise today's 11-hour Grand Circuit card on the Kite track.

Uncle Sam is in need of your money. Buy War Bonds and give till it hurts—the Axis.

Is Picking Up

DOLPH CAMILLI

It is no secret that Dolph Camilli, who bagged the Most Valuable Player award last season, largely on his record of homers and runs batted in, has been having difficulty in keeping pace with his 1941 record. In fact, for two and one-half months of the season, the husky Brooklyn first sacker was nursing an average around .230. Since the first of July, however, he has been picking up gradually, hitting better than .290 for the month to date. He is two behind his 1941 season in homers with 14 to 16. Camilli has passed the 50 mark in runs batted in and will likely go over a 100 for the year for the fifth time since he came into the National League.

In Class by Himself

Dover, Ohio (AP)—Meet Mitzi, whose owner, Charles H. Raynor, says she's the only trained silver fox in the world. "Mitzi likes to smoke, putting her muzzle against the end of a cigarette butt and inhaling and exhaling," the former silver fox rancher says. Raynor found day-old Mitzi abandoned by her mother. A cat adopted the fox and Mitzi thrived, but the cat's litter of kittens nearly starved. Dogs give Mitzi a wide berth and she doesn't take to strangers, Raynor says.

Ferraro Hits 627 Triple in Canine Bowling Matches

Orv Van Alstyne Rolls 575 Series at Rec Alleys in Monday Night's Games

Johnny Ferraro, anchor for the Police Dogs in the Canine Bowling League at the Central Recreation alleys last night, blasted his way to high single and triple as his teammates captured two games from the Scotties. Ferraro powered his way to a 227 single and a smashing 627 triple.

Ferraro was in the driver's seat for the Police Dogs in three individual games of 220, 181 and 227. The Scotties won the initial match but dropped the next two, largely due to Ferraro's splendid keeling. Johnny Frederick was second high for the winners with a 489. Kay Robertson took honors for the losers with 479.

Larry Petersen, Jr., posted a 524 series last night but his club still lost two games to the Whip-pets. The Greyhound anchor bowler posted games of 182, 154 and 188. Jim Roe and Gil Sampson divided honors for the winners with 505 and 504. Sampson had the high single of 190 for the matches.

Orv Van Alstyne came through with three nice games last night for the Great Danes as they downed the Terriers in three straight. Van Alstyne had 201, 189 and 185 for a 575 triple. George Robinson was high for the Terriers with 504.

The Bull Dogs, with Bill Evans as the pacer, took three from the Cocker Spaniels despite high single and triple honors by Jake Senor. Senor blasted out a 209 single score and 568 series. Evans had 171, 191 and an even 200.

Inspection of the City Control Room Register Proposed

To the Editor of The Kingston Daily Freeman:

I am unable to answer the questions implied in your editorial of the 24th, inst., as the effort, kindly made in my behalf, at the Board of Supervisors meeting on May 14, 1942, by my neighbor, Supervisor Francis J. O'Neill, was done without my knowledge. However, there are some facts relative to Kingston city defense which should be of interest to every resident of Kingston. I suggest the following letter be addressed to the mayor of Kingston:

Dear Mr. Mayor:

There has recently been some conflict of opinion as to how efficient the control room in this city has been operated. Inasmuch as this control room is the very heart of the local defense plan and it may vitally affect the lives, the welfare and the property of every resident of Kingston, and the taxpayers of Kingston not only pay the expenses of the control room upkeep but they also pay you in your capacity as director of civilian protection the taxpayers have a right to know the facts so that they can decide for themselves.

To bring out those facts and clarify the entire situation the following proposal is made to that end. In the control room there is a register where every operator on duty signs as he comes on duty and as he goes off duty. An inspection of that register reveals what person and how many served at any hour of the day since the beginning of the control room operation. That register is public property and was bought and paid for with public funds so there should be no objection to its being open to all. It is proposed that it be placed in the control room where it is now. The register is to be inspected by the local newspapers, namely The Freeman and Leader, be allowed to inspect this register and make such comments as seems pertinent to them; further, it is proposed that they be allowed to inspect the register each day hereafter for any comment they desire to make of the previous day's operation.

Predict Your Own Weather

Ithaca, N. Y. — Worried about the weather? Want to know whether to apply that spray or whether to go on that picnic tomorrow? Here's a way to make your own New York state local forecasts, from Prof. R. A. Mordoff, teacher of meteorology at the state college of agriculture. It may help since daily weather maps or detailed forecasts from U. S. weather bureaus are no longer available because of wartime precautions.

First, get a barometer, which indicates changes in air pressure. If the barometer reading rises, it indicates a high pressure area is coming, which means fair weather. A falling barometer, on the other hand, generally means storm conditions.

A southeast wind and falling pressure usually brings either rain or snow depending on the temperature.

A northwesterly wind and rising pressure indicate an area of high pressure to the northwest. This will normally produce fair weather with lower temperatures.

If the northeast wind is blowing and the pressure falling, a cold drizzly rain may be expected.

When the pressure is rising and a southwest wind is blowing, a "high" is generally advancing and will pass to the south. These conditions indicate fair weather with moderate temperatures.

"These general suggestions are not infallible but they enable a person to forecast the coming weather more accurately than by a mere guess," Prof. Mordoff concluded.

60 Days for Vagrancy

Henry Hamilton, 43, who gave no home address, was arrested in Phoenix Monday by Troopers Ray Dunn and Frank Maish on a vagrancy charge. He was arraigned before Justice Flavius Dibble who sentenced him to spend 60 days in the county jail.

O'DANIEL CONFIDENT HE'LL WIN

Although early returns showed him lacking two per cent of the necessary majority to win his campaign for renomination as United States senator from Texas, W. Lee O'Daniel (above) expressed confidence as he read messages of congratulation. In the event final tabulations showed him short of a majority, he must face James V. Allred, former governor, in a run-off primary.

Axis Documents Tell Stark Story Of Their War Aims

repatriated from imprisonment in Japan. The treatment they reveal, coupled with previous authenticated reports of atrocities against prisoners, and the literal enslavement of hundreds of thousands of conquered Chinese, do not leave much room for doubt as to what outcome would be, if Japan won this war.

Found on Prisoners

Even more illuminating and shocking, however, is the information contained in documents made public by the British Information Service in New York with the announcement that they were found on captured German prisoners in Libya. One of these papers is a secret memorandum from the German high command, and the other is a statement by Hitler on post-war plans.

These documents depict a world in which the conquered nations are to be permanently deprived of their freedom. They are to be made vassals of Germany. Hitler's statement recognizes that these vanquished peoples wouldn't be "well disposed to the Reich" and he therefore has made provision for the creation of a vast police force of Elite Guard (S.S.) soldiers who would wield the lash over the unhappy bondsmen.

This means that Hitler wouldn't trust control of the conquered peoples to his regular army. And his statement further makes it clear that he wouldn't trust control of the German people themselves to the regular army, indicating anticipation of possible trouble at home. Says the Nazi all highest:

"It must never again be tolerated in the future that the German armed forces conscripted from the whole people should be sent into action against their own fellow citizens. Such a step is the beginning of the end. A state which is compelled to resort to these measures thus renders itself incapable of sending its armed forces into action against the exterior foe, and thereby abdicates."

Thus Hitler proposed to create a great personal Gestapo from hand-picked men who are fanatical followers of the political philosophy of the chief anti-Christ. There can be no doubt what this would mean, for we see the workings of Hitler's mind in the actions of the present Gestapo which has been directing the butchery of untold thousands in the occupied countries.

What a difference between this Axis projected world, in which Christianity would be killed if possible, and the recent pronouncements from Secretary of State Cordell Hull and British Foreign Secretary Eden, reaffirming the purpose of the United Nations to create a new world of freedom, equality and brotherly love!

Cox Is Exonerated On Misconduct Charges

Hartford, Conn., July 28 (AP)—Governor Robert A. Hurley reinstated Highway Commissioner William J. Cox today, exonerating him of charges of "misconduct, material neglect of duty and incompetence" preferred by Attorney General Francis A. Pallotti.

In restoring the 45-year-old former Yale professor to the $10,000-a-year office from which he was suspended last February, the Democratic chief executive said he was convinced of Cox's personal honesty and asserted that "errors and inadequacies of judgment" in the management of the department "while warranting public attention and correction" were not such as to form a basis for the commissioner's removal.

Farewell Party Held For Supervisor Ashby

A farewell party was given Supervisor Edwin Ashby Saturday evening at Cuneo's Restaurant. Supervisor Ashby of the Fifth Ward left Kingston today for New York city where he reported for service in the United States army. A veteran of the first World War, Supervisor Ashby enlisted in the regular army last Tuesday, passed his physical examination and was directed to report for duty today. The dinner was held at 7:30 o'clock and during the evening Assistant District Attorney Fred Stang presented Mr. Ashby with a watch suitably engraved from "the boys." Others who spoke were County Judge J. Edward Conway, Republican County Chairman Roscoe V. Elsworth and Ed Phalen. Those who attended the farewell dinner were:

Roscoe V. Elsworth, J. Edward Conway, Ed Phalen, Jay Rifenbary, Herbert Thomas, Albert Kniffin, David Brown, Fred Stang, Lemuel DuBois, Albert Cashdollar, John Henry, Elliott Rogers, Howard C. Anderson, Stanley M. Winne, Frank Campochiaro, Ray Mino, John Schwenk and Fritz Bruhn.

Negro Is Denied Ballot in Primaries

Little Rock, July 28 (AP)—A Little Rock Negro accountant was quietly denied a ballot today in the first reported test of Negro voting in Arkansas Democratic preferential primary.

J. H. McConico, 58, secretary of the Arkansas Negro Democratic Association which has been leading the fight for Negro voting in primaries, appeared at his voting precinct shortly after the polls opened but he got no further than the door.

The bailiff stopped him outside the voting place with the statement: "This election is for white electors only."

McConico inquired who the bailiff was, and when he replied he was a deputy sheriff, McConico turned and walked away.

The well-dressed Negro leader told reporters he had been voting in Democratic primaries unchallenged since 1926 at three Little Rock precincts, including the one where he appeared today. Before 1926 he said he had voted the Republican ticket.

William Burns, the bailiff who stopped McConico, said he took the action on the basis of printed general election instructions which specified that "only white Democrats are eligible to vote."

Fire Halts Trolley Service in the Bronx

New York, July 28 (AP)—Service on eight trolley routes in the Bronx was halted early today when a fire in an underground cable conduit at 167th street and Webster avenue burned out a main power line.

Lines affected, all operated by the Third Avenue Railway System, were the East 167th street cross-town, Ogden avenue, University avenue, Burnside avenue, East Tremont avenue, Fordham road, Van Cortlandt Park and Webster avenue routes.

The Surrogate Transportation Company, a Third Avenue Railroad System subsidiary, put on extra buses to serve the area and police were assigned to advise trolley users to seek other transportation facilities.

The fire, which occurred at 1:08 a. m., followed an explosion of gas which had accumulated in a manhole, was extinguished rapidly, but emergency repair crews were still trying to restore the power lines involved at 8:30.

The railway line said the service was resumed one hour later, although on a limited scale on some of the lines, including the long Webster avenue section.

Red Cross Asks Items For Troops' Recreation

A request has been received at the office of the Ulster County Red Cross for certain furnishings to equip a room somewhere in the county for recreational use of troops guarding property.

A couple of good sized tables, a few chairs and some used playing cards could be used, and, if someone has a Victrola that could be spared it would be appreciated.

If anyone has articles of this nature they wish to donate they are asked to communicate with the Red Cross office at 237 Fair street, or telephone Kingston 4038. It is particularly requested that no contributions be brought to the office as they have no room to care for them there.

Davis Broadcasts Are Urged by Lucas

Washington, July 28 (AP)—Senator Lucas (D-Ill.) suggested in the senate yesterday that Elmer Davis take enough time out from his direction of war information to broadcast twice a week on the facts of the war effort.

His suggestion followed criticism by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) that the commercial radio commentators took a slant that was too optimistic and made unjustified remarks about congress.

Lucas expressed belief Davis, by returning to the microphone, could "do more for national unity than any other single commentator."

Pelley Goes on Trial for Sedition

Indianapolis, Ind., July 28 (AP)—Dapper, goateed William Dudley Pelley, the former leader of the Silver Shirts of America who was to have gone to prison in North Carolina yesterday, went on trial in Federal Court today on charges of sedition.

A capias for Pelley was issued at Asheville, N. C. Yesterday after he failed to appear to begin a two-year sentence for violating federal state security laws. He also is one of 28 persons indicted in Washington last week on sedition charges.

Pelley has been in the Marion county jail here for about one week, unable to raise bond. His removal hearing in connection with the Washington charges has been postponed for three weeks by a U. S. commissioner.

Being tried with him today were two alleged associates in the Fellowship Press at Noblesville, Ind., Miss Marian Henderson and Lawrence A. Brown, both of Indianapolis.

District Attorney B. Howard Caughan indicated the prosecution would attempt to show that Pelley "very definitely has been publishing 95 per cent propaganda and the other 5 per cent indirect propaganda."

Twelve counts were included in the indictment, each specifying instances in which Pelley allegedly distributed "false statements intended to hurt the United States and promote the success of her enemies."

Pelley, calling himself "the Nation's No. 1 Fascist," was arrested at Darien, Conn., April 4. Charges against him were based on articles published in the Gallean, his anti-Semitic organ.

Former Bund Leaders To Be Tried August 18

New York, July 28 (AP)—Twenty-two of the 29 former German-American Bund leaders indicted for allegedly conspiring to violate the Selective Service and Alien Registration Acts appeared in Federal Court today and heard Judge Francis G. Caffey set August 18 for their trial date.

Nineteen of the defendants were assigned trial counsel by the court. Gerhard Wilhelm Kunze, Bund "fuhrer" who pleaded guilty to espionage charges in Hartford, Conn., did not appear in court. Previously he pleaded innocent to the two indictments filed against him and 28 others.

Another Bundist, Carl R. Wendlandt, of Buffalo, N. Y., told the court that he obtained counsel from that city who would defend him.

Wilbur V. Keegan, former counsel to the Bund, and a Teaneck, N. J., lawyer, said he would represent himself.

Louis Schatz, a former Troy Bund leader, was among the 22 defendants in court. The court assigned Capt. George Pfann of the U. S. Army, a former assistant U. S. attorney and one-time All-American football player at Cornell University, to represent Schatz.

Petition to Amend Zoning Law Unopposed

Petition of F. Daniel Halloran to amend the local zoning ordinance was unopposed at a public hearing last night in the Common Council chamber before the Laws and Rules Committee. Chairman James E. Connelly of the committee presided.

The committee will decide later on the application. Mr. Halloran seeks to have a property at 88 West Chester street designated as being in the business zone of the city. The property will be used as a funeral home. Alderman-at-large John Schwenk and Alderman William Houghtaling and Matthew Jordan were the other members of the Laws and Rules Committee present. The committee expects to have a report ready for the next meeting of the Common Council.

Parolees Behave Well

Albany, N. Y., July 28 (AP)—Less than three per cent of nearly 10,000 New York parolees were convicted of any degree of law breaking in 1941, the State Parole Board reveals. Of 9,232 state parolees under active supervision, only 127 were convicted of committing new felonies. Another 124 were convicted of misdemeanors. In making public his report yesterday, Board Chairman Frederick A. Moran also revealed that 723 parolees have joined the armed forces and several hundred others are working in war plants. The board paroled 2,615 prisoners last year, a 20 per cent increase over 1940. The increase was attributed to a greater demand for manpower and in work offers to prisoners.

30 Days in Jail

Warren E. Stewart, 18, Negro, who gave Boston as his home, was arrested in Marlborough Monday by Trooper William Martin on a disorderly conduct charge. Justice P. A. Lyons sent him to the county jail for 30 days.

New Production Program Requires More Volunteers

Washington, D. C.—More than 4,000 women attended two conferences on the volunteer services of the American Red Cross called by Mrs. Dwight Davis, national director of Volunteer Special Services, this month in Los Angeles and San Francisco.

The conferences were devoted to a discussion of improvements in the various corps, and the need for more women volunteers, especially in the Production Corps, to meet the vastly increased quotas of garments for foreign war relief, surgical dressings for the Army and Navy, and kit bags for soldiers going overseas.

Pointing out that the meeting was called for the West Coast because women there have been working under wartime conditions for more than six months, Mrs. Davis told the convention that "We have come to get a first-hand report as to how efficiently our Red Cross system works under pressure, not in a phantom emergency, but in a real emergency."

Among those in attendance were more than 30 members of the National Committee on Volunteer Special Services, representing 27 states. The committee members came from points as distant as Maine, Georgia, and Wisconsin. Members of the committee also inspected the various activities of the Los Angeles and San Francisco Chapters and those of smaller chapters in the area.

In an address before more than 1,000 women at a luncheon of the conferees, Mrs. Davis praised the more than 2,500,000 women who have worked so ardently for the Red Cross.

"The Volunteer Special Services," she said, "are a cross-section of American womanhood. Our members represent every field of endeavor and activity — church women, club women, women from labor organizations and from farms. It is to them that the credit belongs for the work done by the Red Cross, and the wonderful spirit which prevails in our ranks."

"Our responsibility does not end with the Red Cross services which we have assumed for the present emergency, but also for the hard reconstruction days which will face us for many years after this war is over."

The conference heard reports of the assistant directors of volunteer special services. These disclosed that all of the volunteer corps had doubled and trebled in size since Pearl Harbor.

Assistant directors reporting were: Mrs. F. Trubee Davison, Motor Corps; Mrs. Graham Dougherty, Canteen; Mrs. William McKee Dunn, Hospital and Recreation; Mrs. S. Sloan Colt, Production; Mrs. Wilmarth S. Lewis, Staff Assistance; Mrs. Archibald MacLeish, Camp and Hospital Service; Miss Adelaide Whitehouse and Mrs. Jane McConnell, Nurse's Aides; and Mrs. Grace Hendrick Eustis, "The Volunteer" and Publications.

Mrs. Lyman Johnson, chairman of Volunteer Services for the Los Angeles Chapter, was in charge of arrangements in that city. Arrangements for the San Francisco sessions were in charge of Mrs. Ambrose Diehl, chairman of Volunteer Services of that city's chapter.

Fred J. Holman to Speak

The members of the Kiwanis Club are promised a speaker on a timely subject at this Thursday's luncheon. Fred J. Holman, manager of War Production Board for the State of New York, will be the guest speaker. Mr. Holman's headquarters are at Albany. He will outline and explain the gigantic task the War Production Board is handling and tell of the results being accomplished in the world struggle for liberty and justice.

RENAULT PLANT WRECKAGE AFTER R. A. F. RAID

This picture, smuggled out of France by "Fighting French" agents, was released in London by the British Ministry of Information to show the extent of damage wrought by British bombs dropped on the Renault motor works at Paris last March 3.
